

Case study

TOPIC is “Employers”

Guidelines to case study

The case study will contain issues relating to the employment relationship, within a workplace context. You will demonstrate your knowledge of the employment relationship by exploring a chosen issue in a real-life context. The following points may guide your exploration of the chosen issue:

1. Identify the issue. What is the nature of the chosen issue identified?
2. Start exploring the issue. You may choose to use concepts and theory that investigate the employment relationship within the Australian context, you can use to analyse and evaluate the chosen issue.
3. What implications does this issue have on the employment relationship - and wider contexts in which it operates? Hint: these implications may be social, economic, legal, political, moral and ethical.
4. Provide practical recommendations on how these implications can be resolved.

Submit to Blackboard under Assessment 1 – Case Study.